UNCLE BENEFACTOR SHYLOCK

Winston Churchill recently chided and prodded the socialist leaders in the English government with a flash and sting of oratory, trying to get them to appreciate what America is doing for their country toward financial rehabilitation through the Marshall Plan. The press too of England seems to appreciate the help our government is extending in a time of dire need.

The London Economist has said, "It is fitting that the people of Western Europe should attempt to renew their capacity for wonder, so that they can return to the United States a gratitude in some way commensurate with the aid they are about to receive." Facing the situation fairly and squarely, the London Daily Herald remarked, "From a catastrophe we have been saved by the action of the government and the people of the United States. Let us acknowledge it frankly and with seemingly gratitude. We have been saved for the moment, but it is only a reprieve. We cannot indefinitely live on the American taxpayer. The recovery program is a challenge."

Do they realize that it is by virtue of the fact that, up to this time at least, we have been able and fortunate enough to stem the tide which has apparently come so near engulfing them (the pressure of the leftists) that we are able to answer their SOS and still preserve our own economy? Looks like it might be a good time to think things over.

THOSE GOOD OLD DAYS

"I long for the care-free, happy days," a local business man said the other day. "Then it was that all a business man had to do was to look after his business. He didn't have a poll tax, a sales tax, a social security or withholding tax to complicate the problem of doing business. Nowadays, in addition to the problem of conducting the business, one has to keep a set of books that takes a good share of the time."

"As I recall it everyone who was thrifty and willing to work got along in those days and was every bit as happy as people are today, in spite of all the costly frills that have been added to our scheme of living. If the business is large enough to employ a bookkeeper it is less oppressive, but the little fellow who does much of his own work, and in addition his own bookkeeping, is buried under a mass of records and reports. It makes us homesick for the good old days."

A PERMANENT COUNTY FAIR

While it has been assumed that the Jefferson County Fair each year, has come to stay, it has not been definitely decided that it is to continue to be held on the Kentucky State Fair grounds. It will be held there this year August 11 to 14, inclusive, as the state fair officials have been kind enough to employ a bookkeeper for the grandstand for its use. The grandstand has been donated.

But many think that in the future the county enterprise should have its own fairgrounds for permanency, and if money is forthcoming or can be raised, it is a proposition to be discussed at some future meeting. Many think that an old fashioned, under-the-trees, and more or less out-of-the-open county fair should be held, differing considerably from something "too ambitious." A track, of course, would be desirable, and an adequate grandstand for the fair. A floral hall might be an adjunct for flower and other modest displays.

Carson Helm, present secretary-manager of the fair, thinks the matter might be discussed at an early meeting with Fern Creek, Jeffersontown, or something in the St. Matthews area as possible sites. Would Jeffersontown care to bid for it? Is there a suitable location about here? Immensely popular fairs were held at Fern Creek years ago and people flocked from the city, as well as from the rural areas.

Sparks and Sundries

By Samuel H. Stuart

From Missouri—a native that is—I am likely to remind friends some unlikely story. Recently, a jovial Republican who loves to test your credulity with clever fabrications made a remark which I supposed to be another of his "yarns." I met the same with my "I'm from Missouri" comment.

"Missourians are always wrong, though," my friend said. "What I told you was nothing but the truth."

Apologizing with the remark that I was just judging the statement by its past record of unreliability, I observed that natives of Missouri do not tell the truth—especially when they get to be President. From the big laugh that greeted the admission, it was apparent that the inference had been correctly taken—he added, gratuitously, that "Maybe Missourians would tell the truth if they were not so wrong."

It seems, from the overriding of his recent votes, that those of Truman's own party in Congress are almost as unanimous as are the opposition in believing our first Missourian President to be generally in error. Surely there must be one thing to be admired, that with so much against him, he has the fortitude to try for re-election, not to mention the later ambition is seemingly one of the most prevalent beliefs in circles supposed to know which has ever been ventured. So, if political posters know anything about it, the Republicans are naming, not a candidate but a President in the present convention that he will not be "from Missouri" is one thing certain and it looks like it will be a long time before any party raises another Missourian for even the Vice-Presidential nomination—what a handicap, natives of the Middle State have to labor under!

Ever hear of Alexis St. Martin? If so, you are one in a thousand, although this French-Canadian was the first of his actual human guinea pig of medical science, due to an odd accident. Alexis had a hole ripped in his stomach by a bullet and the opening never grew together. Consequently, an army doctor, Dr. Beaumont who lived in the same town, had an opportunity to see, by peering in the hole, what the stomach was doing. It was found that the food was being digested or as the result of taking certain substances into it.

Dr. Beaumont found that St. Martin's stomach lining was normally of a clear pink color when he was peering in. But when he was peering in, he found that when alcohol was added, in tiny amounts, the lining membrane became red, the sore developed, then the sore began to bleed. The gastric juices, which had been churning and boiling to cloud up with rosy mucus, long before Alexis St. Martin noticed any bad effects, himself the doctor saw the vital damage done to the precious stomach walls.

When Doctor Beaumont wrote a book about his experiments with the American Fur Company's Alexis St. Martin, one of the earliest authoritative medical treatises—he said, "The art of treating such always produces a redness of the stomach, and it persisted in." If that isn't enough to make any sane person stop drinking alcoholic beverages, what does it take?

The Ladies Bible Class gave a home warming at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harshfield on Beulah Church Road last Friday night. Every one had a very enjoyable time and Mr. and Mrs. Harshfield received several nice gifts. The writer wishes for this couple lots of good health and good luck in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yocom have moved from Jeffersontown back in the High View neighborhood. We were very glad to see them in church today.

resident of High View but now living in Nashville, Tenn., spent a few days in Indiana with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Downing spent last week end with friends in Hodgenville, Ky.

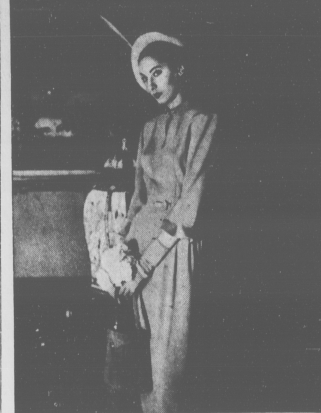

The writers aunt, Mrs. Nannie Omer is growing weaker day by day. The doctors said the end could be expected at any time.

The work at the High View Recreation Field is going along nicely. A new well is being dug, rest rooms built, volleyball and tennis courts fixed and it is hoped that they can get more interest in the parents so that the recreation leader, Mr. Dave Wilson, will not lose interest. He seems to be a fine leader and trying hard to get things going.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright had an after church dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yocom, Mrs. Katie Van Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Yocom and daughter, Elizabeth. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Marvis Higgs and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright and Ronnie. Mr. Carolyn Bate spent Sunday afternoon with Doris Burroughs.

The Ladies Bible Class will meet Thursday, June 24, for an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Grace Lane. This will be the last meeting for the summer.

Work Over Strawberry Beds Now

All strawberry growers with old patches to be carried over for harvesting again next year, 1946, should get busy immediately and work out the middles of the old rows and beds.

Mr. W. W. Maull and Mr. A. Armstrong of the Horticulture Department, University of Kentucky made the following recommendations.

After Harvest Care of the Patch

Most commercial fields in Kentucky are fruited two years and some are carried over for the third harvest. The success of the second year's crop depends largely on the treatment given after the first harvest. Some fields are given no care, and the resulting yield is generally low and the berries small. In tests in commercial patches in western Kentucky, scratch-cultivating the old middles without much harrowing of the fruiting row has required less work and has given higher yields than barrowing off and working out. Any work of this nature should be done immediately after harvest, before weeds and grass have gained too much start, and before the ground has dried out too much, as often happens in June. Where heavy barrowing-off has been delayed until one month after harvest, yields have been seriously reduced. Moving all the leaves from plants immediately after harvest has helped yields regardless of the manner in which the plants were treated.

Some growers adjust their tractor cultivators or tilling tools so as to work two berry middles at once. In this way fields are worked out much quicker and easier than on the one-horse, single-row system where a double shovel, nine-tooth harrow, or "rastus" is used.

Two excellent demonstrations were held in the County Monday afternoon on working out the old patches. Two rotary type garden tractors were used in these demonstrations and some of the most successful strawberry growers of the county were highly impressed with the manner in which these small tractors just "ground to pieces" those old hard packed middles to a depth of 5 to 6 inches. The old straw, grass weeds and old strawberry plants growing in the middles were completely pulverized. This type cultivation said Mr. Maull, was giving excellent results over the state. Regardless of the type of implement used, all patches should be thoroughly worked out with the old beds narrowed down to 12 to 15 inches and middles loosened up to a depth of 4 to 8 inches now following the first good rain.

Southern Bell's rates in Kentucky are not adequate to meet today's costs and assure a financially sound company capable of rendering good telephone service. The company's new schedules, recently filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission, include only such rates as are required to meet Kentucky's needs for service.

Today's telephone rates are the emergency rates authorized by the Public Service Commission last year. Emergency rates were requested only as a stop-gap to partly offset tremendous increases in the costs of supplying you service. They were not expected to meet all the increased costs and provide earnings necessary to keep the Company sound and the service good.

Furthermore, even the earnings under the emergency rates have been lowered by continued cost increases and are now running only about 2.9% on the millions of dollars invested in Kentucky telephone facilities.

Adequate Earnings Necessary For Continued Good Service. To continue to furnish good and improved service for the progressive communities of this fast-growing state, the Company must have rates that meet current costs and provide reasonable earnings for those who make telephone service possible by investing their savings in the business.

The investors' dollars pay for new facilities through which telephone service is constantly improved, kept modern and enlarged. Since January 1, 1946, we have spent $20,000,000 on new facilities in Kentucky, and in the next few years, $50,000,000 of additional new facilities will be needed. These expenditures mean job opportunities and payrolls important to the continued prosperity of Kentucky.

If we are to continue this improvement and expansion work, the Company's earnings must be sufficient to attract the necessary new capital.

Telephone Service Still An Outstanding Bargain. Telephone service at the new rates will still be one of today's best bargains. The new telephone rates are low in comparison with the heavy increases in our costs of rendering you service. They are low in comparison with the increases in costs of the other items you buy. While manufacturers, farmers and business generally have re-priced their products based on today's cost levels, the telephone Company as a regulated utility has tried to render service in Kentucky at rates only slightly higher than those established in the 1930's.

The new telephone rates are required to give good and improved service. Rates lower than these in the long run could result only in poor service. The people of Kentucky want good telephone service and that is what we want to furnish.

HOMEMAKER CLUBS

CEDAR CREEK
The June meeting of the Cedar Creek Homemakers was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Groves. Mrs. P. K. Schroeder was co-hostess.
We had a lesson on flower arrangement, given by Mesdames Rountree and Standford. Some of the ladies gave demonstrations on things they do well, such as knitting, crocheting, cut work embroidery, dressmaking, and painting on material.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Henry Groves; vice President, Mrs. Robert lingsworth; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Everett Rountree. Mrs. C. E. Felt, the retiring president, gave a report for the year.

Our major project for September was textile painting. We had 22 members and 4 visitors present at this first meeting of the year.

Glove making was our major project for October. This month was the date for Homemakers' Annual meeting which was held at the Brown Hotel. $10.25 was paid to the county treasurer at this meeting for Friendship Gifts. Five of our members attended this meeting.

Refinishing trays was our major lesson for November. Several members have made beautiful trays and waste baskets. Our club held a special meeting November 16 at the home of Mrs. A. Medcalf to work on trays. 15 members went to Sunshine Lodge and entertained the children. We took them bananas and home-made cookies, and used clothing.

Sewing machine attachments was our lesson for January. After our meeting adjourned we held a white elephant sale and made $15.13.

The major lesson for February was on making and decorating hats. Several of our members have really made use of this knowledge. A box of groceries was sent to Europe this month.

Color and design in the home was taught us in March. Following adjournment our club was hostess to a Stanley Brush demonstration given by Mrs. Schroeder, this net us $3.50, which we donated toward the Cancer Fund. This was added to a free will offering taken up at the next meeting. Total run for Cancer Fund was $15.00.

April lesson was on arrangement of furniture and accessories. Four members attended district meeting at Male High School April 24.

The major project for May was use of pictures in the home. June brings us up to date by which we each demonstrate something that we do well. We have election of officers beside our usual business.

Next month we are looking forward to having a picnic given at the home of Mrs. Medcalf. We will collect annual reports and pennies for friendship at this meeting. July is also the month for the Silver Tea and International Day Programs given at Okolona High School.

We have a vacation in August, but don't forget Homemakers Camp August 23-27. We have had 6 new members join our club.

Our total enrollment is now 26. I want to thank you for your cooperation and loyal support you have given me. It really has been a pleasure to be your president for the last two years. May our friendship grow and our mark continue in the years to follow. I wish each new officer a successful year and am sure each member sincerely will help you in every way possible. (Mary Alice Fields).
—Publicity Chairman, Zena M. Schroeder.

FAIRMOUNT

The Fairmount Homemakers Club met June 15 in the home of Mrs. Edith Kast at 10 a.m. Nineteen members answered roll call. Mrs. Farmer gave a very interesting lesson on the arrangement of flowers. Mrs. Whitton gave the devotional. New officers were elected for the new year as follows: Mrs. Edith Kast, president; Mrs. H. E. Thacker, vice president; Mrs. Matt Leathers, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. J. D. Holloway, publicity chairman; Mrs. Lillian Gibson, recreation leader. After a delicious lunch served by the hostess, business hour was had. We are happy to have Miss Anna K. Evans with us. Our picnic for July was planned to be at the camp of Mr. Stevens on Floyd's Fork.

Our club is planning to take part in the International Day at Okolona school on July 8. After birthday gifts were given out we adjourned to go to our annual picnic in July—Mrs. J. D. Holloway, Publicity Chairman.

AUBURNDALE

The regular monthly meeting of the Auburndale Homemakers Club will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. E. R. Speers, Scotts Gap Road, Friday, July 2.

RIVER VALLEY

River Valley Homemakers will meet with Mrs. Lloyd Tabor, Bethany Road, Friday, June 26 at 10:30 a.m. The speakers are to be Mrs. Paul Linde and Mrs. Chester Swearingen. Subjects will be flower arrangement and glove making.

PLEASURE RIDGE

For this month's meeting Mrs. Roberta Moreman was hostess to the Pleasure Ridge Homemakers. Fourteen members and one visitor were present, also Miss Evans, the first half of meeting.

This month's meeting was devoted mostly to the election of officers and leaders for the various projects for the coming year. The following officers were elected: President—Mrs. Lemmah Senn; Vice President—Mrs. Roberta Moreman; Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Matt Kofnag.

The project for the month of June was individual demonstration. Many things learned by each member during the year were shown. Ruth Rinehart gave the lesson on how to arrange flowers.

Lunch was served by Roberta consisting of sandwiches, vegetable salad, potato chips, pickles, iced tea and cake.

Due to the picnic in July and camp in August, our next meeting will be September 7 at the home of Mrs. Betty Claud-Publicity Chairman.

STRATHMOOR

The June meeting of the Strathmoor Homemakers Club was a very busy meeting. Following the business session, Mrs. Louis Dreibel gave a very helpful lesson in landscaping and the care of shrubs and roses. Then each member gave her wheel which deemed best in doing good household hints, favorite cooking and baking receipts.

We all can save by doing our own instead of buying ready wear. Budget lessons for the year have been most helpful and enjoyable, even to making our own hats and costume jewelry.

After a delightful lunch served by our hostess, Mrs. Roy Davis, roll was called, minutes read and treasurer's report was given.

Election of officers for the new year resulted in the following: Mrs. W. W. Marple, president; Mrs. Walter Hartmann, vice president; Mrs. Roy Davis, secretary and treasurer.

A rising vote of thanks was given our president, Mrs. J. V. Craig, for the fine leadership in the past two years.

Ladies bring (what have you) for our table display, July 8, International Day and silver tea. Mrs. W. W. Marple and Mrs. Paul Jagdilly are in charge of our table—you may leave it with Mrs. Emil Dick before the eighth or bring it to the Okolona school before 1 o'clock of the eighth.
—Mrs. O. J. Meyer, Pub. Chairman.

NEW WATER RATES

Effective July 1, 1948

For August 1st billing, the following schedule of rates is announced:

First 4,000 Gallons (Minimum Rate) $3.50
Second 4,000 Gallons . . . . . at 60c per thousand
Third 4,000 Gallons . . . . . at 50c per thousand
Over 12,000 Gallons . . . . . at 40c per thousand
Above rates subject to state tax

The slight increase in the new rates is made imperative, due to increased cost of cooperating expenses, higher cost of materials and the advance in the wholesale price of water purchased from the Louisville Water Company. Since the Water Company advanced the price of water 25%, more than a year ago, with Water Commission has endeavored to absorb the increase but, with all the other advances in operating expenses, this has proven to be impossible.

It is of course imperative that the Commission make the necessary provision to retire the bonded indebtedness on schedule. To do this and meet current operating expenses more revenue is required.
